

22nd March 2024

REMINDER

School breaks up today for two weeks.

School starts again on Tuesday 9th
April.

Weekly Update

This has been a week of celebrations on both sites. The lunch staff have nominated pupils who have shown outstanding kindness this week and they all enjoyed a very special lunch today.

This afternoon we celebrated the pupils' in-class achievements with our brand new recognition afternoon. Speaking to a number of parents this year we have changed our behaviour policy to have a big focus on acknowledging those pupils who are always following the rules and trying their best. Dependent on how many Dojos or shiny pegs the pupils have earned this term, they were able to select a special activity this afternoon. This ranged from board games, art, through to a film and snack.

We have also celebrated two staff who are moving on to new things. Miss Spence has been with us for five years and has always shown such a caring attitude to both her pupils and the staff that she works with. Mrs. Taylor's organisational skills are second to none and she has had a huge impact both across the school and our local area. We are going to miss you both so much, but wish you all the very best in your new ventures.

You will see the staff wearing the most lovely new coats. These have been provided by our Trust—Transforming Lives Educational Trust, to support staff that are expected to be outside as part of their roles.

You can't miss them!

Anxiety and Children

Anxiety can be crippling and stop children from doing what they really want to do. We have brokered the Mental Health in Schools Team (MHST) from NHS RISE to come and deliver a workshop on child anxiety to support parents.

This workshop will be held in the family room on the Cornwallis Site and will take place between 1:45-3:00pm on Tuesday 16th April 2024.

Please come along and talk both with professionals and other parent / carers.
